WHAT IS ENDURANCE?

Endurance refers to the ability of a muscle or group of muscles to sustain repeated contractions against a resistance for an extended period of time.

We will be focusing on creating muscular endurance for the next 4-6 weeks. This program can be performed in congruence with your Pledgendary training sessions or as a standalone. Speak with your Pledge Team Coach to create an optimized balance between your in-session work and this on-your-own program.

BEFORE STARTING

Always monitor yourself when performing a workout: avoid any exercise if it hurts, work your way up to our suggested set and repetition counts as you build your endurance. You should recover once a week with an Active Rest Day performing rolling and stretching of any tightness, and/or enjoy fun physical activities.

Perform all exercises with “Proper Form”. This means maintaining a wide chest, your shoulders down and back, a tight core (suck in your belly button towards your spine), and glutes engaged to maintain your hips directly below your rib cage.

For any given exercise, select weights and resistance based on what you can lift while maintaining proper form. A good rule of thumb for finding the right amount of weight to use: your last three repetitions should burn.

EQUIPMENT

Recommended Equipment for Endurance Training:

- Stopwatch
- Mat
- Bands

Recommended Equipment for Weighted Movements:

- Dumbbells / Barbells
- Cables
- Kettlebell

While our PTFstudios have all the equipment one could dream of, each exercise can be modified with different equipment you have available at the moment.

Use what you have at your disposal.

Each exercise in this PDF has suggestions as to how it can be modified with different equipment or to different difficulty levels.

WARMING UP

Each workout should be started with 5 minutes of any cardio activity and 5 minutes to stretch and roll any tightness.

This is in addition to the Dynamic Warm Up in each workout section.

Complete all four workout sections once per week, for up to six weeks.
